

Talking Books

What is a Talking Book?

This is when someone pretends to be a book and lets other people Read them.

Here in Lincolnshire we have people with Learning Disabilities that are talking books. They go into GP surgeries and the people working there can talk to the book and ask questions.

Books

- Tell their stories
- Let people know How best to communicate better with people with learning disabilities
- Support practices to help meet the health needs of people with learning disabilities

This will give people a better understanding of what it is like to live with a learning disability and how we can all work together.

Talking Books

The Talking Books aims to increase the number of annual health checks, and to make the experience a better one for Staff and people with Learning Disabilities.

If you would like your surgery to have a visit from one of the Talking Books please contact: Marie O'Sullivan
