Talking Books

What is talking books?

This is when someone pretends to be a book and lets other people read them.

Here in Lincolnshire we want people with Learning disabilities to become books. And go out into GP surgeries to talk about what it is like to have a learning disability.

Books

- Tell their stories
- Help staff to communicate better with people with learning disabilities
- Help people to make changes

If you would like to become a book or want to know some more information on the Talking Books please contact
